About This Year’s Theme: Change, Rooted in Tradition

BY HALEY COTE

When you think of Mashpee, what comes to mind? Is it a favorite shop, restaurant or hangout spot? It's hard not to think of Mashpee as the bustling hub it is today. There is no shortage of sights or experiences and resources to make the most of a visit, or a life, in this town. It's exciting, being part of a community that's so dynamic.

As constant a force as change is in Mashpee, there is a force just as ever-present, it's undeniable — Mashpee's indelible legacy, that of the Wampanoag people.

There is no Mashpee without the Wampanoag community. Long before Mashpee became incorporated in 1870, thousands and thousands of years before, the Wampanoag tribe both literally and figuratively tended to this land, sowing the seeds of a prosperous community for generations. Their presence and culture continue to be an integral part of Mashpee. The Mashpee Wampanoag Community Development Corporation is dedicated to enabling social and economic opportunity for the tribe’s citizens. This July marks the 101st Powwow celebration — the theme being “Honoring the Four Directions.” And last December, the tribe’s right to their 321 acres of reservation land was reaffirmed by the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Rooted in history yet ever-changing — that is Mashpee. How fitting, then, is Mashpee’s new town seal. The seal in and of itself is symbolic of change and its positivity. It’s a striking, colorful image. At the foreground is the Mashpee River, honoring the town’s natural environment. In the distance an eagle — the strongest and bravest of all birds in Native American culture — soars as it approaches a rising sun — a nod to the Wampanoag tribe as the “People of the First Light” and emblematic of the promise of a new day. The base of the seal reads “Kuwnee Puyomuw Maseepeeut,” Wopanaak (the Wampanoag language) for “Welcome to Mashpee.”

So when we at the Chamber think of Mashpee, we’re not just thinking of the changes the town has seen and the history it is built upon, but more so how they coalesce. Mashpee’s warm embrace of change and simultaneous steadfast commitment to honoring its roots is a remarkable thing, and it’s what makes this place so special.

Change — it is the one true constant thread that all of us have experienced this past year. We have continued to persevere, evolve, and positively transition to ensure business vitality.

As we look back, The Mashpee Chamber has been a constant force for its business community, figuring out ways to navigate through ongoing change, while providing safe and fun experiences to network and be together. As we move forward, all of us at the Chamber are excited to tackle new efforts building upon what we currently provide for our businesses, streamlining efforts, and creating efficiencies that will make us better and stronger. We look forward to building closer relationships with all of our membership and creating new relationships and partnerships with businesses that align with our efforts.

Most importantly, we look forward to serving you and providing a credible and dependable voice for the business community that makes sense. Change initially disrupted our day-to-day business, but we are all proud of how Mashpee businesses adjusted for success and sustainability. Of course, we are not surprised — after all, #WeAreMashpee.

Adopting Change:
Seal of Approval

BY RODNEY C. COLLINS, TOWN MANAGER

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Law Chapter 40, Section 47, each town in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts shall establish a town seal at a town meeting.

The Town of Mashpee, Massachusetts was incorporated May 29, 1870 and is rich with history from the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe.

The longtime Town Seal was questioned in a citizen’s petition before the May 6, 2019 Town Meeting (Article 32). The petitioned article was submitted by Brian Weeden, who would subsequently become Chair of the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribal Council. The petitioned article passed and empowered the Select Board to initiate a process to develop a new Town Seal. In a Memorandum to the Select Board, dated December 12, 2019, I recommended that the Select Board establish an ad hoc advisory committee for the purpose of preparing a recommendation for a new Town Seal. I further recommended that one Select Board member serve on the committee and to serve as Chair.

The Select Board appointed seven members of the Town Seal Committee. The members consisted of: Selectman David Weeden, who served as Chair, Administrative Assistant Terrie Cook, who served as recording secretary, Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe Chair Brian Weeden, who was the Tribal representative appointed by the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribal Council, Joan Tavares-Avant, who was the Historical Commission member, School Superintendent Patty DeBoer, Town Planner Evan Lehrer, and Library Director Kathy Mahoney.

The objective of the Town Seal Committee was to plan, review, design, and recommend a draft Town Seal to be presented to the Select Board. The Select Board was expected to discuss the draft Town Seal and decide whether to place an article on a Town Meeting Warrant for approval by the voters or legislative body of town government. The scheduling and planning of this process was delayed due to the restrictions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The initial actions of the Town Seal Committee included the design of a community survey to be used to solicit feedback from all Mashpee residents and to provide guidance in the draft design of the new Town Seal. Additionally, I initiated a “Request for Proposals” from qualified vendors to provide professional assistance to the committee. The survey responses provided feedback with quantitative results focusing on Wampanoag history, plants/animals, water, local economy, town history and habitat/landmarks.

The purpose of the requests was to identify a qualified graphic designer that could assist with the design and development of an updated Town Seal that recognized and honored the Town’s history, its culture, and that which makes Mashpee unique.

It was acknowledged that the old Town Seal was not reflective of Mashpee’s history and was seen as an objectionable symbol. The scope of work was intended to complete the draft design by meeting with the committee to discuss and evaluate survey results; produce up to two working drafts of the replacement Town Seal that incorporate the elements prioritized by the committee; to produce the final draft by no later than September 1, 2021; and to make a presentation to the Select Board on final draft.

The vendors were reviewed based upon qualifications and experience. A description of resumes and biographies of all principals assigned to project were expected. A list of capabilities corresponding to the scope of work and work performed on similar/relevant projects were expected, along with results achieved. References from owners/clients of similar projects that the vendor had undertaken were also expected. Quotations were due on April 15, 2021. Pierce Cote Advertising, a Cape Cod based design firm, was selected to facilitate the draft design and began work with the committee in May 2021.

The focus points from the survey emphasized that the Town Seal incorporate the following: Wampanoag history/symbols; native plants and animals; and water bodies. Pierce Cote outlined project steps by holding brainstorming roundtable discussions with the Town Seal Committee, developing a value proposition, discussing mandates, developing initial concepts and design preferences, and finalizing a design. Creative direction for the project took into account concerns that the old Town Seal was a reminder of oppression, it depicted Native Americans in a non-flattering manner, and the arm and sword over a Native American was offensive.
Meetings on the draft design included discussion of a praying Indian Town, vested interest in the environment, reliance on shell fishing (especially the Quahog), stewards of the land, appreciation for natural resources and the environment, working in concert together, endured changes, and the place of great waters. Other considerations were given to Wampanoag symbols, plants, animals, water and how best to define Mashpee. The value proposition was to make the Town Seal welcoming while honoring the Wampanoag Tribe as stewards of its land and beauty by moving forward in unity to greet the next day. Priorities included an environmental theme, a body of water, honoring tradition, sunshine and light, recognition of homeland of Wampanoag, the original spelling of Mashpee, and being culturally sensitive and accurate. It was also decided to not include Barnstable County, buildings, or Latin on the new design.

The final draft design included a border that represents Wampum beads, showing single white beads in the Mashpee Wampanoag purple. The design also included a rising sun, which represents a new day and a new start, while also depicting the Wampanoag Tribe being the “People of the First Light.” The Wampanoag also hold symbolism in the eagle, flying closest to the sun and creator. Therefore, an eagle is depicted with the rising sun. The Mashpee River was chosen to represent connection to nature and a body of water. The colors of the final draft were chosen to represent harmony, unity and the beauty of Mashpee. “Welcome to Mashpee” is written in the Wampanoag language to honor the past while welcoming the future.

The draft design of the new Town Seal was recommended to the Select Board, who unanimously approved it. The proposed new Town Seal was presented before voters in Warrant Article 3 at a Special Town Meeting with the unanimous recommendations by the Select Board and the Finance Committee.

The new Town Seal was officially adopted on May 2, 2022.

FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

GRADES 3-6:
The Quashnet School currently serves 428 student-leaders. Our Coombs School “Made-in-Mashpee” learners transition to the Quashnet School in Grade 3. A Quashnet student is not only provided with differentiated instruction tailored to meet his/her/their individual learning needs, but also with a school environment where the whole child is nurtured and celebrated. A Quashnet student experiences a highly skilled and dedicated staff, rigorous project-based learning explorations, small class sizes and small group instruction, technology-enhanced instruction and learning, cultural programs, free instrumental lessons, band, strings, chorus, community service projects, engaging and enriching family learning activities/events, a chapter of the National Elementary Honor Society, an extensive free after-school activities program, leadership opportunities, and many annual events that allow students to extend and apply their learning.

The Quashnet School is rich with opportunities for family engagement and participation. Just like at the Coombs School, the Mashpee children who attend the Quashnet School brighten our world. They are thoughtful, filled with wonder and potential, creative, hardworking, smart, funny, and insightful. These young people help us to be better versions of ourselves, while gaining perspective on the world around us. We are building caring leader-citizens in our community with young people who are making a difference.
A “Whatever-It-Takes” Mindset

GRADES 7–12:
The Mashpee Middle-High School (MMHS), a comprehensive high school that currently educates 684 students.

After spending four years at the Quashnet School, our now 12-year-old “Made in Mashpee” learners begin the final segment of their MPS journey at the Mashpee Middle-High School (MMHS). An MMHS student learns in a safe, supportive and inclusive culture where diversity is embraced. Throughout his/her/their journey through MMHS, a student learns from highly skilled and dedicated educators and is able to access 15 Advanced Placement courses, Technology Center of Excellence courses — robotics, animation, maker-space, computer-gaming, TV production — our ProStart culinary program, and multiple language offerings including Spanish, French, Mandarin Chinese, and Wôpanâak. Students can become highly skilled musicians, artists, and performers, participate in our Career & Technical Pathways program that currently offers eight specific pathways, engage in dual enrollment and school-to-career programs, present at professional conferences, as well as participate in a wide range of co-curricular clubs, extensive athletic offerings with no fees, robotics competitions, and community service projects. Technology-enhanced learning abounds at MMHS. We work hard to make sure that each MMHS student feels valued and that student voice is prominent. The changes that we witness in our scholars from 7th through 12th grade are simply amazing. Not only do they display significant physical growth, they also evolve into young adults who have a desire to make a difference, are excellent teammates, are positive role models and leaders for those who follow them, and are informed caregivers for our Mashpee community and for our planet.
Preparing for Change: By Being Better Today (cont.)

The final event in a student’s journey through the Mashpee Public Schools is the awarding of a MMHS diploma. Graduation is a truly special ceremony where our connected community comes together to recognize and celebrate our amazing young people and their accomplishments — our “Made in Mashpee” product. For students who have been with us since preschool, this day marks the last milestone in a 15-year journey. The integration of the Mashpee Wampanoag culture into this ceremony makes it even more meaningful for our connected community — a way to celebrate, honor and recognize that Mashpee is the Tribe’s home.

We are confident that the Mashpee Public Schools will continue to evolve and positively contribute to the most important product “made” in the Town of Mashpee — children and young adults who have the knowledge, skills, experiences and emotional well-being to achieve their dreams and to help us make our world a better place. We are grateful for the opportunity we have been given to serve the children and families of Mashpee. IT’S GREAT TO BE IN MASHPEE — a connected and caring community of makers.

Changing Responsibly: Preserve and Protect

BY BRIAN MOSKWETAH WEEDEN, Chairman, Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe

The community talks about Mashpee as the ancestral homeland of the Mashpee Wampanoag — my Tribe. We read it on the town sign. We open meetings with land acknowledgments — striving to be woke among peer communities. It’s talked about as an era that is now bygone. It’s spoken of as an idyllic setting so far removed that we can no longer see it.

For my Tribe, our ancestral homeland is not past tense. We live in the present and continue to deal with the fallout of 400 years of colonization. Rebuilding after slavery, war, boarding schools, forced assimilation that included language and culture being outlawed.

Today, we focus on strengthening our tribal nation, asserting our aboriginal right as the stewards of this land, and building strong, confident and intelligent youth who will continue to lead our Tribe forward responsibly.

Let’s be honest: We have an uphill battle as we move forward. Our homeland is in pain. You’ve continued to build and build and build until the land and water could no longer support the toxic waste that seeps into our soil. Buildings that sit on the most fragile pieces of land, filling this insatiable need by some to live directly on the edge of our bays and estuaries. All of this has a price, and our land and water are paying for it.

We cannot deny that the growth of the 70s, 80s and 90s made a mess of our water. It’s now on us — tribal citizens and citizens of Mashpee — to urgently find a solution. It’s on us to preserve our natural habitats, tend to our waterways, and slow the building pace. Our ancestral homeland cannot handle it anymore.

Four hundred years ago, our homeland was described as plentiful with abundant natural resources. I don’t see this as an idyllic setting that we cannot get back to. While it took over 40 years to achieve Federal Recognition and Land for my Tribe, we now stand firm in our right to preserve and protect our homeland and responsibly grow our tribal nation.

Sometimes it feels like you are the only one going through your emotions, especially when stress is bundled together with feelings of isolation.

Michelle Itzkowitz, owner of INNERGLOW YOGA, felt that way 10 years ago, when she first moved to Cape Cod. Even though she had a new job and new friends, Michelle experienced moments of sadness and loneliness. Back then, she realized she needed support. “We all need community and love. We need validation, care, and connectedness,” says Michelle.

Understanding her own needs led her to opening innerglow yoga — a place in the heart of the community where everyone can come together and feel good. “Those early moments are memorable and sacred as I connect those emotions to present day,” Michelle shares. “Through the pandemic, I have found that I have had a lot of emotions come back — uncertainty, grief, anxiety, fear. After all, being a small business owner in a field that relies on breathing wasn’t a match for the virus!”

Michelle was far from alone in her feelings brought on by the pandemic. Dr. Matthew Donlan shared that “the pandemic has had an impact on everybody’s mental health.” Dr. Donlan completed his Doctor of Behavioral Health studies in May 2021, and shortly thereafter opened DONLAN COUNSELING SERVICES at Deer Crossing in Mashpee. He continues to explain that “rates of depression, anxiety and substance abuse have significantly increased since March 2020, and while the mandates for COVID protocols have become more and more relaxed, people’s feelings of isolation, loneliness, and fear are still very present.”

“We all need community and love. We need validation, care, and connectedness.”
Just like innerglow yoga, The Mashpee Fitness Center was also forced to shut its doors. Joe Carroll, owner of CAPE COD REHAB and the MASHPEE FITNESS CENTER, and his staff knew they had to do something for their members. Carroll says that “exercise has been shown to strengthen the immune system, reduce stress as well as all the well documented benefits of improving all the essential qualities of health and fitness, balance, coordination, flexibility, endurance, speed, and strength.”

Immediately, businesses in health and wellness recognized their importance for not just the physical health of their community members, but for the mental health needs surfacing amidst pandemic-induced isolation. “Society as a whole,” says Dr. Donlan, “needs to heal from the trauma that was brought on by COVID, so spending time outside, enjoying hobbies, and appreciating in-person interaction can be some of the first steps toward the revival of normalcy.”

The attention to their customers’ needs in the field of mental health and stress management happened quick for some Mashpee businesses. Joe Carroll describes the journey Mashpee Fitness Center took to adopt a greater focus on the emotional needs of their members. “One of the first things we did was to put together a few recorded exercise programs of different levels and made them available at no charge to our clients,” shares Carroll. After the initial videos, Mashpee Fitness Center developed a library of on-demand classes, lecture series focused on exercise at home, interactive Zoom sessions where family members from all over the country could join in, and even a stress management and wellness program just for their staff.

The most popular programs were Tai Chi — not only to work on people’s balance and mobility but also to serve as a relaxing form of exercise to help reduce stress — and classes on the stress management technique called “Progressive Muscle Relaxation (PMR).” Carroll says in response to the PMR courses, “One of our clients is a psychologist who asked for this program to share with their clients due to the high levels of stress, anxiety and depression that she was dealing with in her practice.”
Like Mashpee Fitness Center, Michelle took her yoga studio online at first, followed by outdoor activities and socially distanced classes. She sums up her experience, sharing, “These past few years have been a test to my emotional strength and stability, and as I continue to move forward with expansion, I remember what my mission is — to hold space for the community to move, breathe and find peace through transformation.”

Organizations in the healthcare field like COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTER have understood for a long time that most people experience periods of stress at some time in their lives. Stress can come from so many circumstances: challenging family dynamics, loss of loved ones, financial difficulties, or just the day to day expectations we place on ourselves, to name a few. The pandemic added a huge layer of stress for so many of us — the initial uncertainty of what the virus was and now the chronic piece of it being a part of our lives, the sickness or loss of someone close to us, and the isolation felt especially by those living alone.

“We offer behavioral health services to individuals who receive their primary care at the Community Health Center, with care provided by a team of 12 providers made up of social workers, psychologists, psychiatric nurse practitioners and psychiatrists,” according to Laura Kanter, Ph.D., Director of Integrated Services. “Our services are growing to meet the increasing needs of our patients following the struggles so many suffered over the last two years.”

Beyond health services, Mashpee businesses are putting mental health at the forefront. For some, that means treating staff with elevated care and consideration. For others, it means changing their strategies for marketing. Flowers, hair care, pets, art, music — these are all ways Mashpee businesses are delivering on making mental health and self-care a priority.

Michelle leaves us with this beautiful sentiment on how Mashpee businesses and the people here have shown up following the difficulties faced over the last few years:

“I am proud to live in a community where we can come together and support each other. Let’s take a collective breath and move into the new landscape post-pandemic with ease, grace and optimism.”
Welcome to Your Medical Home!

Community Health Center is proud to offer comprehensive, high quality, compassionate health care to all, regardless of ability to pay. With access to integrated services including walk-in care at 107 Commercial Street, you can receive all your care under one roof!

Working in Mashpee: Adapting to Today’s World

BY BILL HOUGH, PUBLISHER/EDITOR, THE ENTERPRISE

Living in a world of change is nothing new for local businesses like us. We’ve all been striving to adapt to a landscape that is figuratively and sometimes literally morphing into something new — a new way to buy, to sell, and to service. It can feel that here on Cape Cod we reside in an eddy on that progressing river, a holdout of the old ways. There is some credence to this notion, but sooner or later we all have to ride with the current.

No one feels the pressures of keeping up with change more than a small business. Our resources are smaller, our room for error tiny, and the cushions on the floor, should we fall, virtually non-existent. We do have one major advantage, however: being local. When an organization resides in the community they serve, they gain a hometown perspective. We know our customers and clients better than anyone, and despite all of the surrounding changes, one thing remains constant — our commitment to the folks we serve.

In October, On Cape Magazine, a publication of the Enterprise, would like to recognize these local businesses that are doing it right in our Best of the Upper Cape magazine and event. Our readers, those who love this sandy peninsula as much as the businesses that they serve, will nominate their favorites and vote on their top choices for the Best of the Upper Cape in various categories.

On October 5th, we will host a celebration and announce the winners in grand Cape Cod style! We chose October because, as any local knows, that is the time we can collectively take a breath after the busy summer season.
It will be a time to reflect and congratulate, and a time to share success with our fellow businesses, and wind down for the winter season.

We will all need to change and adapt in today’s world on some level; as a newspaper we feel it as much as anyone. The businesses that excel in the present have done so by investing in the future and not forgetting the past, their relationships, their traditions, and their core commitments to their customers. We hope to see you in October as we collectively celebrate the locals’ choice for the Best of the Upper Cape!

Explore the Cape!

90% of Cape Cod's economy are small businesses with 1-19 employees. Local retailers and restaurants keep 2-4x as much money in the local economy as their national chain competitors.

Per $1 million of revenue, local hotels employ 11% more people than their chain competitors.

Shifting 10% of spending to local retailers would put an additional $112 million in the Cape Cod economy every year.

Purchases from online retailers not based on Cape Cod return virtually no money to the local community.

OUT & ABOUT IN MASHPEE: BUBBLING BEVERAGE SCENE

BY SHEILA FEY, TRIPLE M

There’s a little section of Route 130 that has truly emerged as the bubbly, boozy beverage destination of Mashpee, where you’ll find an incredible selection of coffee, beer, spirits, and even cannabis-infused cocktails at these four fantastic hotspots:

CAPE & ISLANDS DISTILLERS

Located under the same roof as Cape Cod Coffee, there are thousands of cocktail recipes, but what truly makes a cocktail remarkable is the quality of its spirits.

“You can even take a rum & coke to the next level when you use a good rum,” says Jonathan Fryer, managing partner at the distillery.

That’s why he and his partners Andrew McCabe and Vinny O’Brien decided to start distilling spirits of their own, using only the finest locally sourced ingredients. The team’s initial goal was to create a high-quality gin that would elevate even a simple gin & tonic, and after mastering the art of distilling, they soon added rum and vodka to the menu. Today, the menu at Cape & Islands Distillers includes classics like the Cape Cod Great White Rum and Sippewissett Cape Cod Gin, as well as a brand new line of canned cocktails including a vodka-infused coffee cocktail and the “Par-Tay,” made from vodka, iced tea and lemonade.

This summer in the Cape & Islands Distillers tap room, you can catch a glimpse of small-batch artisanal spirits being distilled as you sip on a house cocktail and admire local art on display.
CAPE COD COFFEE
CapeCodCoffee.com

Located under the same roof as Cape & Islands Distillers, Cape Cod Coffee has become a household name on the Cape, with tons of locals and tourists alike starting their mornings with a cup of Cape Cod Coffee.

For more than 50 years, the team at Cape Cod Coffee has been roasting an impressive variety of coffee beans at the Mashpee roasting facility.

Cape Cod Coffee is more than coffee. It’s an amazing restaurant where guests can stop in for a quick cup of coffee and decadent breakfast pastry (baked onsite), or settle in for lunch, dinner, or a cocktail (or a beer or glass of wine, if that’s more your speed). The restaurant menu includes wood-fired pizzas, seasonal salads, award-winning wings, and so much more.

In addition to the Route 130 location, which has ample indoor and outdoor seating, Cape Cod Coffee also has a location in Mashpee Commons that serves breakfast and lunch. They also have a full bar!

NAUKABOUT BREWERY
naukabout.com

The name “Naukabout” originated before Peter Murner was even born.

“My friend’s dad, Tim, would say, ‘OK, let’s put on our knock-abouts and get outside,’ and we grew up to really love that word and thought it would make for a cool lifestyle brand,” says Murner, Naukabout Brewery’s founder.

Today, Naukabout Brewery not only makes some of the best beers on Cape Cod, they’ve also built a destination for beer-lovers, music-lovers, art-lovers, and pretty much anyone who likes to have a good time.

Naukabout’s bread-and-butter continues to be the rotating menu of New England-style IPAs, but the team is constantly searching for new and exciting brews and sodas, including their ever-popular sour beers and milkshake IPAs. Murner and his team recently expanded their outdoor seating capacity and can accommodate up to 300 visitors in the new indoor/outdoor spaces, which makes you feel like you’re in an expansive, magical treehouse.

Stop in for live music (which you’ll find there every night they’re open), great beers, a classic selection of bar bites, and tons of activities for people of all ages. Check out Naukabout’s event calendar to see everything they have going on this summer.
TRIPLE M DISPENSARY
triplemdispensary.com

For those who are searching for a nonalcoholic beverage with an elevated twist, Triple M’s locally made marijuana-infused beverages are now available for Cape Codders and visitors (over the age of 21, of course).

Made with locally grown flower, Triple M’s cannabis-infused seltzers are designed for social sipping and sold by the single can or in four-packs. CannaSpritzers, which are made just up the road at Triple M’s Plymouth facility, have become a fan favorite in Triple M’s Mashpee and Plymouth dispensaries.

“CannaSpritzers are great because they provide all the buzz without a hangover,” says Kevin O’Reilly, COO at Triple M Dispensary. “We’re seeing more and more people swapping out their boozy beverages for cannabis, and our dispensaries have a fantastic variety of product to meet anyone’s needs.”

Triple M’s dispensary menus boast a huge selection of cannabis flower, prerolls, edibles, vape cartridges, concentrates, topicals, and tinctures, all of which are made in Massachusetts. Their Mashpee dispensary is located between Cape Cod Coffee/Cape & Islands Distillers and Naukabout, making it a perfect last stop on your Mashpee beverage tour. Visitors must be over the age of 21 with valid ID to enter.

Out & About in Mashpee:
Five Mainstay Establishments

BY HALEY COTE

You know those places you’re always drawn back to? Those mainstay establishments that have a gravitational-like pull on you — they just have a sense of comfort and community that can’t be beat. And the food and drinks are always on point. You can’t go far in Mashpee without finding such an establishment, and these five spots in particular are among the best to sit back, relax, and enjoy a great comforting meal with your family and friends.

Let’s start our restaurant journey on Route 151, at DINO’S PIZZA & SPORTS BAR. As you can guess by the name, Dino’s is the laid-back kind of spot you want to head straight to after work for a cold one and a slice — and maybe some of their original-recipe wings, too. But Dino’s is more than just a sports bar, it’s a place to reconnect and say hello to old friends too. As great as it is inside (the large flat-screen TVs everywhere, the Keno), they’ve also got an outdoor dining patio — Dino’s on Deck — where you’ll want to spend your summer nights, enjoying live entertainment and frozen cocktails around the fire pit.

Heading east you’ll find a little something for everyone at the NINETY NINE RESTAURANT on Ryan’s Way. The Ninety Nine’s motto is “Always the Real Deal,” and that extends to both their pub-style fare and cozy, inviting dining room and bar. From sirloin tips and killer chicken sandwiches to the All-Star Burger and Towering Midnight Fudge Cake, their menu is jam-packed with goodness. And let’s be honest, it’s an easy weeknight or weekend treat for the whole family.
Now let’s head to Mashpee Commons to a true bedrock of both the Commons and the town — BOBBY BYRNE’S. Founded in what we now call Mashpee Commons in 1973, Bobby Byrne’s describes itself as an “Eating, Drinking and Talking Establishment,” and while that might sound simple, there is a quiet comfort in Bobby Byrne’s that has kept people coming back for nearly 50 years. Whether it’s gathering with friends at the bar, a date night or family celebration, Bobby Byrne’s flagship pub is a spot where you can enjoy all of life’s moments.

If you’re up for a little adventure, and maybe some nightlife vibes, around the corner you’ll find Bobby Byrne’s sister spot, THE LANES BOWL & BISTRO. Not only can you have a blast bowling, or playing bocce on their outdoor patio court, but the bistro fare and creative cocktails are a true delight as well. We’d recommend trying one of their signature flatbreads, along with The Eddy. Plus, mark your calendar for their Monday trivia nights.

For a quintessential Cape Cod dining experience, make the trip to THE RAW BAR at Popponesset Marketplace (aka the Poppy Raw Bar) in New Seabury proper. Their famous colossal lobster rolls are reason enough to visit (these things are legendary), but we’d be remiss without mentioning their fresh local oysters, littlenecks and steamers. You can dine and drink outdoors on the patio or under one of the heated tents. And while you’re there, be sure to stroll around the Popponesset Marketplace and check out the scene at The Raw Bar’s neighboring sister spot, the Marketplace Café, grab ice cream, and bring your game for a round of putt-putt.

The Mashpee Chamber of Commerce, Chamber Members, and the Mashpee Community are committed to making Mashpee a welcome place for all who live, work, and visit Mashpee. In order to make everyone’s visit more comfortable, we have identified our Chamber Members who advertise Handicap and Wheelchair Accessibility with [HA]. If you do not see this symbol, please contact the listed business to find out what facilities are available. Not all Chamber Members have physical locations; therefore, accessibility is not applicable.
